Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Saturday 20 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rather cloudy, breezy and damp overnight. A mild night.

This Evening and Tonight:
A rather cloudy and breezy night, with some outbreaks of patchy light rain at times, especially in the west. However, the far east should stay largely dry this evening, before rain moves in from the west overnight. A mild night. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Sunday:
Probably rather cloudy and damp in the west, with patchy rain here stalling and perhaps returning westwards later. Brightest in the east throughout, and again generally very mild. Light winds. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday probably on the cloudy side, with patchy rain again making erratic progress eastwards but fading later. Drier and brighter, but breezier towards midweek. Staying mild.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.